A physician's prescription, and recommended widely, it is no longer an experiment to thousands who have used it successfully for various skin affections. At all druggists.

110 CHILDREN HELD BY TRAVELERS' AID

Society Workers Return 75 Boys and 35 Girls to Homes in Past Eleven Months.

The Travelers Aid Society workers at the Union station during the last eleven months of this calendar year performed 32,385 minor services for persons coming into Washington, took care of 665 children and returned to their homes 75 runaway boys and 35 runaway girls, according to the report today of Mrs. Mary C. Hobday, station supervisor to the executive board of the organization.

The society, it was announced, needs $10,000 to continue the work in 1923. The organization is supported by the voluntary contribution of Washington citizens. No public solicitation of funds is undertaken, but interested persons are asked to send contributions to John B. Larnier, president of the Washington Loan and Trust Company, treasurer of the society.

Contributions have been received from the following: Ida J. Davis, Panny H. Stocking, Sally L. Ellis, Mrs. J. E. Rogers, Charles A. Stott, J. T. Ransom, C. T. Steward, Homer Jordan, Mrs. E. B. ## JAPANESE SILK EXPORTS HEAVIEST EVER KNOWN

Alternating periods of depression and feverish activity have characterized the Japanese silk market in the last few months, according to advices today from Commercial Attache Abbott of Yokohama to the Department of Commerce. Notwithstanding the unusual situation, Mr. Abbott informed the department, silk exports from Japan during the three months were the largest ever recorded.

The heavy silk exports were said to have accounted for almost half of Japan's total foreign shipments during the period and was given as the sole cause of the satisfactory maintenance of the export trade. The cotton yarn market, Mr. Abbott added, has entered another period of depression, with the result that production is steadily declining. There has been a downward tendency in exports also, he said, with the result that even the limited production is piling up stocks.

Some of the smaller spinning companies were reported in serious difficulties, and agitation has been renewed for a restriction on production of this commodity. Mr. Abbott expressed the opinion that the real trouble here is little, if any, margin between the manufactured cost of yarns made from the raw cotton, which was bought at higher prices previously prevailing than are current now. He believed, however, that this difficulty will adjust itself through the disposition of the old high-priced stock, which will be replaced by cotton costing less.

New Winter Coats

At January Clearance Sale Prices

Although nearly every coat in this offering is new, it was purchased at a great price concession, so that we might offer it at a price as low or lower than we could if it had been shown in our stock all season.

So here is a real Clearance Sale—not in the sense of clearing old stocks, but in offering manufacturers' surplus stocks at prices which represent savings of about half the real values of the coats.

Note the splendid values in these five special groups.

Fur-Trimmed or Plain Winter Coats, $18.90

You wouldn't expect to buy coats of such fine qualities at such a low price, even much later in the season. Some are trimmed with embroidery or stitching, and many have attractive collars of fur.

Coats of Surpassing Style Features, $22.90

Some of these have a dressy air, while others are big, roomy outdoor coats with gay abandon in every line. Some are of mannish herringbones, tweed mixtures, plaid-back or double-faced cloths.

Good-Looking Winter Coats and Capes... $44.90

Deep-pile Bolivia, cordelaine and velveteen cannot help making these coats both beautiful and voguish. Some are a bit conventional of line, while others have the voguish lines of a cape. Most are fur trimmed.

Coats for the Woman of Extra Size... $59.50

The woman who is hard to fit will find a remarkable opportunity in this moderately low priced group. There are coats and capes of Bolivia, Normandie and Cordelia, trimmed with caracul and beaver.

Exclusive Coats, low priced at... $75.00

Beautiful models of the softest, richest fabrics—such coats as seldom bear a two-figure price mark. Straightline, bloused or draped, most of them trimmed with fine pelts of squirrel or beaver.

Clearance of Winter Suits and Dresses

These are truly opportunity days for women and misses who have waited for clearance sales to buy a suit or dress. We have drastically reduced all odds in our regular stocks. Items are too numerous to list, but a trip to our Ready-to-wear Section means actual savings of many dollars from regular marked prices. Don't delay another day—come tomorrow, and as early as possible. The savings are unusual.

Announcing a new price on Nemo Self-Reducing Corsets $3.00

The Nemo Circlet, $1.00

The proper brassiere to wear with the Nemo Self-Reducing Corset. The Circlet supports the heavy tissues of the diaphragm, eventually reducing them to conform to the most voguish lines. Sizes 34 to 48. This is also a new low price on the Circlet.

—Third Floor.

New in the January sale Hats of Glossy Black Haircloth

Special Value, $3.50

Just a step past New Year's, and then the springtime—and these trimmed and tailored hats of smart black haircloth are ready—gloriously ready—to usher in the new season.

The only thing that makes it seem impossible—they are such entirely new, advance styles—is the lowness of the price. But we made a little extra effort in arranging this sale, just to show you what we could do as a New Year's surprise.

There are about a dozen models to choose from, some of them trimmed with jet ornaments, feathers or satin combinations to make them smart, while others choose only a fringed edge or draperies of their own black haircloth.

—Second Floor.

Boys' Winter Union Suits, heavy ribbed gray cotton; perfect fitting and perfect quality. Sizes 4 to 16 years. Each... $1.00

—First Floor.

Women's Perfect Stockings, $1.00 Pr.

A large grouping of the preferred kinds of women's stockings, including Merio, silk-and-fiber and thread silk qualities. Every pair perfect and reinforced for service. Splendid values.
